Killer Images - Creating Digital Faces for Law Enforcement is an introductory course that will teach attendees how to develop digital facial composites using SketchCop® Online, our web-based facial composite software app.

The course will be delivered LIVE via Zoom by Michael W. Streed, a renowned forensic artist and co-developer of the SketchCop® app.

This is a unique opportunity to learn from a master of the art of crime solving. Michael possesses a wealth of experience working for law enforcement agencies worldwide, helping them solve high-profile cases using his skills as a police sketch artist.

Attendees will learn:
~ The benefits of using facial composites
~ Introduction to the cognitive interview
~ How to use facial composite software
~ Editing your composite image
~ Practical exercises

Killer Images - Creating Digital Faces for Law Enforcement will help investigators and civilian support personnel learn valuable skills to help their agencies respond to violent crime investigations.

Note:
1. You don't have to work in law enforcement to attend.
2. Attendees will be issued log-in credentials to use SketchCop® Online during course exercises.
3. As an added bonus, those who subscribe to SketchCop® Online within 30 days of attending the course will receive a 10% discount off their first year.

Once we reach the desired number of attendees, we will send you a payment link. Upon receiving payment we will send you the ZOOM meeting log in information confirming your attendance.
